Family Scholar House (formerly known as Project Women)

Our mission is to end the cycle of poverty by giving single-parent students the support they need to earn a four-year college degree.

As an organization Family Scholar House recognizes the challenges that single-parent students face in trying to provide housing, childcare, and basic necessities for their children without adequate income or the education necessary to obtain career-track employment. In Louisville, hundreds of single-parents are trying to survive. Since incorporating in 1995, our not-for-profit organization has helped hundreds of families in our region by providing housing and educational support.

With the Louisville Scholar House campus at full capacity, the Downtown Scholar House campus pre-filled in advance of opening in January 2011 and a waiting list of over 500 families, the need for our services is in great demand. Our response to the needs of disadvantaged families pursuing their educational goals is to grow through additional locations, expanded programming, and stretching resources to offer help and hope to single-parents and their children.
